D

Sample answer

To make a ham omelette, you need some eggs, a lot of ham, one small onion and a cup of grated cheese. First, chop up the onion. Next, heat some cooking oil in a frying pan and add the chopped onion. Chop the ham into small pieces and add it to the pan. Next crack some eggs into a bowl, add some milk and mix together. Then, add it to the ham and onions. Cook for five minutes. The last thing to do is add lots of cheese on top of the omelette, then put it under a grill for a few minutes. You could also add a pinch of salt and a pinch of pepper for taste. It is nice to serve this omelette with some salad.

Sample answer

When you leave the station, turn right. Walk along the road until you get to the first junction, then turn left. Along this road, there is a fire station next to a pub and in front of the fire station, there is a crossing. Cross the road here and then take the first right and go along this street. Take the second on the left, and the college is on the left, opposite the bank.

I may change my job later this year, this is because I might try to change my career. I want to find a job that pays better, but I won't change my job unless I can guarantee a higher salary. I won't be going back to university because I have a degree already. However, I'm sure I will do other short courses. I will start a family one day, I'm sure and it might be a big family. So really, my dream is that one day I may have a big house, a big family and lots of money!
